SPIRITUAL TRADITIONS OF EVERYDAY LIFE

Woodcarving (Mas / Kemenuh)

Mas and the surrounding villages are characteristic by carving workshops.

Tirta Empul (Tampaksiring)

A temple founded in 962 at a sacred spring used for the Hindu purification ritual.

Spice Garden (Kintamani)

Kintamani mountain region dominated by the Batur volcano, is known mainly for spices, coffee, cocoa and citrus plantations.

During this trip you will get to know the beauty of the mountains, the mystery of spices and the Hindu ceremonies of the island of Bali. The first stop goes to the carving workshop, where you will have the opportunity to see the art of Balinese carvers and learn about some types of rare wood. After this visit, we will visit the gardens, where you will get to know different types of spices, fruits and get an insight into the traditional way of roasting coffee. This visit also includes a tasting of local coffee, cocoa, ginseng coffee, ginger tea, lemon grass tea and other non-traditional teas. It is also possible to taste real civet coffee for a fee. After a short stop, we head further north to the Kintamani Mountains. After a stop for lunch with a view of Gunung Batur, one of the still active volcanoes on the island. The last stop awaits us at the Tirta Empul temple, where you will be able to take a look at the Hindu purification ceremonies of the body and spirit and then see a traditional Hindu prayer.
